

RIVAL MANAGERS FIGHT FOR CONTROL OF NEXT CAMPAIGN

By DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1920 by Jamesville Gazette)

Chicago, June 3.—Two rival sets of managers are really fighting for control of the next Republican campaign and it is not altogether pertinent to the nominee shall be so long as control is assured the victorious group. Thus does the struggle between the Lowden and the Wood managers overshadow everything else. Former Postmaster General Hitchcock and his lieutenant are battling strenuously in behalf of Leonard Wood, while the latter is pushing things all he can for Lowden but each manager is that if neither Wood nor Lowden is the dark horse is named must be such as to assure a say in the management of that nominee in any campaign.

No confidence in any camp. Behind the scenes conferences galore and whispered messages from group to group intensify the excitement as the truth about every contender in the race namely that not one of the men whose names have been mentioned for the presidency can look forward to the palling with any degree of confidence.

Ney, the lights that are ahead may tear the managers further apart. Senator Borah is pushing to make his fight before the convention on the league of nations. Some of his friends are openly quoting the Idaho senator as predicting an independent ticket as the Republican party insists on favoring the ratification of the peace treaty with reservations. Nobody knows that Borah will lead it or that says that Borah will sanction it for these two men have not definitely made known their intentions. But the shrewd leaders are beginning to feel that the anti-treaty and anti-league sentiment will find an outlet of some kind in a new party.

Senator Medill McCormick, who is a William Randolph Hearst plans it. Stand with Lodge. Nevertheless the senatorial group and the elder statesmen who make up the resolutions committee which is to draft the party platform are taking their stand with Senator Lodge in favor of the peace treaty with reservations. It is a first defeat for Senator Johnson and probably will be further accentuated when the convention turns down Senator Borah's plea for a plank against the treaty and the anti-league sentiment. Notwithstanding the enthusiastic demonstrations for Johnson and the stand which a dozen Republican senators have taken in support of the peace treaty, the determination of the men in control of this convention—namely the Wood and Lowden managers—is to brush Johnson's viewpoint aside as inconsequential. They do not want to give the democrats the clear-cut issue of the peace treaty which President Wilson has sought.

As to Johnson. Indeed, there is a growing tendency to ignore the California senator in many quarters here. His declaration that he would not balk is accepted in good faith and further, a candidate, the aforesaid leaders do not seem to be looking. Again and again, delegates are heard expressing the belief that Johnson is and would be a wonderful vote-getter but the eastern Republicans are almost a unit against him so that his nomination can bring about his nomination. That miracle may come in the form of a death struggle between the Lowden and Johnson managers who in certain contingencies might make the effort to nominate Johnson feeling sure that the California Senator would lend him his strength and support for a dark horse when once he was convinced that every effort to nominate him had been exhausted.

Wood to Grow Stronger. Only those behind the curtain transactions and negotiations count before the palling. Like generals in a military setting, the greatest force will not be marshaled on the first advance. But as the second and third halts are taken, surprising strength will unquestionably be shown by Leonard Wood. The strategy of his commanders is to invade the Johnson stronghold right off the bat and the rally expected to bring Leonard Wood's total up to its maximum. Then the tug of war between Lowden and Wood will be on with the chances for the general somewhat better at this writing than those of the Illinois Governor.

But the elimination of Johnson, Lowden and Wood is only a matter of a few ballots. Behind the scenes a compromise candidate will be named. Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts, Sprout of Pennsylvania, former Governor Hughes of New York, Philander Knox and Herbert Hoover may be drafted the moment the powers struggling for control make up their minds they must select someone besides Johnson, Wood or Lowden.

Bitterly Anti-Wilson. Reading of the keynote speech brought much cheering from the convention. Senator Lodge did much better as temporary chairman than did Senator Harding four years ago. The Massachusetts Senator was bitterly anti-Wilson, something which the delegates thoroughly enjoyed. Every reference to the covenant as Wilson presented it, every sarcastic reference to the President's negotiations abroad, was greeted with applause.

This convention is more bitterly anti-Wilson than the convention four years ago. Senator Lodge's appeal to the people to overthrow the Wilson dynasty was construed as meaning not only the expulsion of Mr. Wilson from power but his prospective heir, William Gibbs McAdoo. It was a well-managed opening with plenty of

Laborer at Samson Co. Speaks 22 Languages

Just about this time each year, college men leave their alma mater by graduation and considering Latin, French and Greek as assets and forth to conquer the world. But their knowledge of languages is only by degree in the basket compared with that of Max Medow, a Russian Jew, who joined a Samson laborer's collection at Kansas City, scout's collection at Kansas City, and who for the past week has been wrestling riders and timbers in the tractor plant yard.

Medow says he knows 22 languages. After having been in Egypt, Greece, Palestine, Malta, Italy, France, Canada and the United States, he claims to have acquired all these "wildly" tongues, except Chinese and Japanese.

Would He Interpret? He is not satisfied with his laborer's job. He should have work as an interpreter. He says he is an actor and a singer of no mean ability. He knows Shakespeare and has a first knowledge of all the classics. Zolotens, near Kiev, Ukrayna, Russia was his home. Nine years ago he left his native land because of persecutions to enthusiasm, plenty of singing of patriotic airs, plenty of jammed aisles and crowded thoroughfares, plenty of tormenting placards outside inquiring by yellow banners when the Republican party will furnish the thirty-sixth state to ratify the federal suffrage amendment. Plenty of predictions of a battle royal on the morrow as the reports are received from the committees on platform and credentials and plenty of confusion of a new and self-chosen "Old Guard" carries on a fight within the ranks while the elder statesmen and the convention leaders try to reveal to protect the whole managerial business.

SOCIETY CELEBRATES FOURTH ANNIVERSARY

Sixty women celebrated the fortieth anniversary of the national organization of the local Women's Home Missionary society of the M. E. church yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John P. Nichols, 311 E. Main street. A spirit of enthusiasm and pride marked the meeting.

Since organization the local society has a membership of 62. 23 more new members being received yesterday. Now members formed a procession marching to the mission house, Mrs. H. A. Griffin, where each was greeted with a badge.

Mrs. J. P. Nichols presided giving a clever introduction in verse form to each number. Several songs appropriate to the birthday of the society were sung. Six little children laden with flowers marched into the room and placed a wreath upon Mrs. Griffin's head in token of the mission mother's birthday. Those who took part in the work were Priscilla Griffin, Edna, Katherine and Donald Wiggins, Katherine Lewis and Betty Worthington.

Mrs. E. F. Lewis gave an interesting account from the annual report showing the broad scope of work done by the society, accentuating the part mission schools play in Alaska. The noble work of the Methodist deaconesses was discussed by Mrs. J. P. Turner who told of the small compensation which women who urged the society to contribute to the deaconess fund, established to care for them when ill.

Mission schools in which the negro, Indian, Mexican, Oriental and mountain child is educated was Mrs. A. W. Wiggins' topic. The difficulty of teaching children foreign born and of doing community service among these people makes teachers for the schools a problem. Many of the teachers she said were at one time pupils who take up work among their own people.

Refreshments were served at the close the feature being a large birthday cake lighted with 40 candles. Committees in charge were Mesdames J. E. Auten, George Jacobs, E. P. Hocking, George St. Clair and D. Parker, music.

The Nichols home was attractively decorated with peonies, lilies and flags. X-rays are being used successfully to bring out erased parts of ancient palimpsest writings.

Two MORE SECTIONAL HOMES TO BE BUILT. Permits for the erection of two more sectional houses, the type of construction used in the barracks at the Samson plant, have been issued by the building department to M. Hansen, to be built at 317 and 321 Caroline street. The cost is given at $3,200 each; the specifications, 5 rooms, 24'-0" x 27'-6".

Other permits granted: Jamesville Fence & Post company, repairs to dwelling, 212 South River; Mrs. C. Baker, installing heating apparatus, 1109 Olive street; J. B. Cain, 413 Caroline street, private garage; Western Divers association, installing boiler at plant on Western avenue.

The Mountain Ash Welsh Male Choir

Methodist Church, Friday 8 P. M.

WHAT THEY SAY

NEW YORK "EVENING WORLD" SAYS:
The Mountain Ash Male Choir scored another success last evening at old Historic Plymouth Church, a large audience enjoyed their remarkable singing and demanded encores for almost every number. While some of the choruses were in Welsh the greater part were in English, and admirably sang they were too. The individual voices were of excellent quality and the choir disclosed splendid unison, fine precision and balance, clean cut attack and delightful nuance.

CHICAGO, ILL., DAILY TRIBUNE SAYS:
The Mountain Ash Welsh Singers in ensemble, were magnificent. The upper parts clear and ringing and the lower resonant and big in tone, with a balance and quality that made each number a gem.

From the deep fervor displayed in the somewhat weird national songs to the melodious nonsense of Genee's "Italia Salad" the men gave every evidence of high vocal attainment.

The choir was of the highest order, and tells mightily for Mr. T. Glyndwr Richards' skill as a conductor and trainer.

The enthusiastic audience demanded encores over and over again—the last number bringing four with insatiable encores demanding clamoring for more.

MILWAUKEE "EVENING JOURNAL" SAYS:
Mr. Glyndwr Richards and his company of Welsh singers "The Mountain Ash Male Choir" covered themselves with glory and are easily the finest singing party ever heard in these parts. It is a pleasure to listen to such a body of male voices where any member need not be ashamed to step out of the choir and before the audience. They sang with a delightful and appealing quality of voice that, blended beautifully. The shading varied from a delicate pianissimo to a degree of fortissimo that was amazing.

WINNIPEG, CANADA, "FREE PRESS" SAYS:
One of the most remarkable exhibitions of choral singing ever heard in the city was given last night by the Mountain Ash Male Voice Party before a great audience, which displayed enthusiastic appreciation which steadily increased as the program proceeded. Various singing organizations have visited Canada in recent years, but these Welshmen easily excelled any of them, not merely in the perfection of their chorus singing, but in their solo work as well.

NEW YORK "EVENING WORLD" SAYS:
The Mountain Ash Male Choir scored another success last evening at old Historic Plymouth Church, a large audience enjoyed their remarkable singing and demanded encores for almost every number. While some of the choruses were in Welsh the greater part were in English, and admirably sang they were too. The individual voices were of excellent quality and the choir disclosed splendid unison, fine precision and balance, clean cut attack and delightful nuance.

CHICAGO, ILL., DAILY TRIBUNE SAYS:
The Mountain Ash Welsh Singers in ensemble, were magnificent. The upper parts clear and ringing and the lower resonant and big in tone, with a balance and quality that made each number a gem.

From the deep fervor displayed in the somewhat weird national songs to the melodious nonsense of Genee's "Italia Salad" the men gave every evidence of high vocal attainment.

The choir was of the highest order, and tells mightily for Mr. T. Glyndwr Richards' skill as a conductor and trainer.

The enthusiastic audience demanded encores over and over again—the last number bringing four with insatiable encores demanding clamoring for more.

MILWAUKEE "EVENING JOURNAL" SAYS:
Mr. Glyndwr Richards and his company of Welsh singers "The Mountain Ash Male Choir" covered themselves with glory and are easily the finest singing party ever heard in these parts. It is a pleasure to listen to such a body of male voices where any member need not be ashamed to step out of the choir and before the audience. They sang with a delightful and appealing quality of voice that, blended beautifully. The shading varied from a delicate pianissimo to a degree of fortissimo that was amazing.

WINNIPEG, CANADA, "FREE PRESS" SAYS:
One of the most remarkable exhibitions of choral singing ever heard in the city was given last night by the Mountain Ash Male Voice Party before a great audience, which displayed enthusiastic appreciation which steadily increased as the program proceeded. Various singing organizations have visited Canada in recent years, but these Welshmen easily excelled any of them, not merely in the perfection of their chorus singing, but in their solo work as well.

A SAFE VACATION—2

The man or woman who leads a life of devotion to the movies or sitting in a hysterically nervous tension at the ball game. But even at the cost of three hours a day, it is cheap medicine. Some of use pretend we can't spare the time from business for any such stunt. The big business manager to find time for self-improvement, the little man in business life can be tremendously busy over nothing to speak of.

Or maybe you have wooden legs or a ship's anchor so that you can't take any appreciable amount of oxygen on the hoof. Well, don't quit on that account. If you can't enjoy oxygen by count, you can take it by the minute. There is always 10 to 15 minutes somewhere in the day that you can have for your very own, in your own room, with nothing on. If you don't know how to get the most oxygen for your time that way, send me a stamped and addressed envelope with a question here Thursday, turning in here Thursday, June 17.

QUESTIONS NOT NAME THE CITY

Dr. Brady has on hand some thirty or more replies which can be delivered by mail. The correspondents have addressed themselves to the editor of the Gazette, and the name of the place is not given. No doubt they are all good people, but I am not a homeopathist. What a great number of vacationists come back home to recuperate from the "overwork" of the week. I am not a homeopathist, but I advocate 50 half-days of pay annually as the preferable dose.

With the vacation decided on, the next question is, are you in a condition to stand it? It is wise to begin training for your vacation several weeks in advance of the holiday. Probably the best way one can train is by daily walking. A morning walk and an evening walk with a great number of vacationists come back home to recuperate from the "overwork" of the week. I am not a homeopathist, but I advocate 50 half-days of pay annually as the preferable dose.

THE DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

NOT JACK, AFTER ALL. Monday morning—My engagement ring winked reproachfully back at me as I sat staring at it in all its loveliness. I am thinking of life as she is lived when lived only. And it's all very absorbing to me. There are so many variations of one theme sometimes, don't you think?

I am to dine with Jack this evening, and go shopping with him tomorrow morning. Most important thing, this, all for the future holiday. We have decided to go over two of the rooms in the dear little bungalow, and of course Jack wants me to decide on color schemes, etc.

And now I am waiting for one Prince Charming to call and I feel sort of guilty, for this particular man is the one I met at the Sloan's party the other night, the dark-eyed, soul-stirring Harry. I have decided that the name does not suit him at all; in fact no name of these times could, so the name he shall remain Prince Charming.

Well, don't blame me for it all; blame the poets and fairy-tale writers of all ages for this strange romance of mine. Prince Charming has been sleeping into our systems (we of the feminine tribe) ever since we were knee high to a grasshopper; consequently we spend the rest of our days in seeking him, and adoring him, when we find him—which for-

Unfortunately for the great mass of husbands is seldom!

I have always been in love with Prince Charming, ever since the day when as a wee girl I first read about him and fell to dreaming about him and his sunny smile. I used to walk with him, and talk with him, long, wonderful conversations held in the privacy of the nursery at twilight, when nurse and mother had deserted me for the short space of ten minutes. He used to smile down at me from some mystical clouds way up high, far above the nursery ceiling—said ceiling always stretched to infinity, held at my will, anyhow. And he would float by, elusively, with a radiance about him, always pointing to the great space—these I never noticed. It was a vapory friendship, this one of ours, but I always knew that some day I should find him, even though he slipped away, as all Prince Charmings should.

An this one of mine is coming here to my studio in a few minutes to see me and my work. It is thrilling just to think of an admirer criticizing anything about one, or of one.

Maybe he will be harsh and caustic, and yet I think not, for above all else he has infinite understanding. I know just as well as I know my own weaknesses—that he can feel every vibration of my body and soul. Then he reacts to every slightest variation of my moods, and he is as delicately strung as a cobweb on a cloud. That's why I like him.

I have put my self-portrait on the easel, where his eyes will fall on it before anything else. It is by this I shall test him in several ways. Maybe he, too, will see the real, and not the unadorned, behind that green mist of eyes and veiling. My heart jumps queerly. There is some huge presence in the studio—this wonderful yet fanciful one. I know that Prince Charming is at my threshold. Entree Mon Roi!

To Clean Silverware—An easy way to clean silverware is to lay it in a large flat bottomed pan and cover completely with thick sour milk or buttermilk. Allow to soak in this over night or for several hours. Then take it out and wash in warm soapsuds and wipe dry with a soft cloth. This is excellent and a saver of time and labor.

Storing Winter Clothes—Brush well and sprinkle on them smoking tobacco. Put some in the pockets. Old cigars rubbed to a fine dust will do. It serves the same purpose as moth balls, and you don't have a bad odor.

It is also good to put under rugs to prevent moths.

To Preserve Oldclothes—If you put several newspapers under the oldclothes on your kitchen table, you will find the oldclothes will last twice as long.

Padding the Ironing Board—Pad one side with several thicknesses of a Turkish towel. Then when you wish to iron a garment having buttons or embroidery, simply turn the board up and use the padded side.

Two Kinds of Pie in One With Leftovers—Line your pie tin with pastry as for one pie; put a portion through middle with strip of pastry; in one-half put leftover apples or apple sauce and the other half put in leftover mince meat. Thereby being up days left over from larger piece of the table.

To Clean Brass—Make a paste of flour and pure elder vinegar. Rub on any brass article, bird cages, jar on a chandelier, etc., and leave about 15 minutes. Then rub off with a woolen rag, and shine.

Also, in washing woodwork, add one-half cup of kerosene oil, and use a heavy woolen cloth.

You can use discarded graphophone needles for cleaning bottles; also the same in a little bag or small square cloth and use for cleaning sticky pans.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Letters May be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 15 years old and am desperately in love with a man 24. He seems to care very much for me. He kissed me good-night the other night. He takes me to the picture shows twice a week and buys me everything I want. Will you please tell me whether I am doing right or not? J. C.

You are too young to go with men. Be careful now because your whole life's happiness may be spoiled by a hasty and impulsive act. You can see from my column that most marriages are failures when the girl marries at your age.

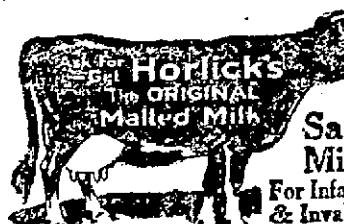

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a divorced woman of 28 and the mother of three of the dearest children God ever blessed one with. I was happily married until two years ago when I discovered my husband's faithlessness. I felt I could never forgive him, but I bore him no ill will.

After I was free I met a man I could have idolized, but who also proved unworthy. It broke my heart, but I put him out of my life. My dear mother died two years ago and I lost the best friend on earth when she went. Don't think I am complaining. I have tried to be brave, but I get lonely and blue sometimes.

Since mother died I have stayed home with my babies and I have eight brothers and sisters to care for. I would not mind this, but rather consider it a blessing, if I had a fatherly father to co-operate with me. He comes home so ugly sometimes I think he is going crazy. He curses God so much for nothing.

I want to bring up my dear little babies to love God, but my heart turns cold with fear when I see the atmosphere I am keeping them in. I would be willing to sacrifice anything for the good of my children.

Do you think it is my duty to stay home under these circumstances? Would you advise me to leave town?

but know that some day just compensation will come as a result of your loyalty and effort to do right.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am engaged to be married and we are to send out announcements. My future husband desires to pay for the announcements. Should I permit him to do this or should I pay for them? E. T. R.

The girl's parents should send the announcements and they should not be paid for by the man she marries. Sometimes circumstances alter, conventions. Use your own judgment about the matter. If you cannot afford to send them, and he wants them sent, let him help you out by paying.

Record Early Stakes List for Janesville Fair Meet

111 HORSES ENTER BIG LOCAL EVENTS

Come From All Over States and Canada—Track Retains Prominence as "Lexington of North."

One hundred and eleven entries for the early closing stakes for the Janesville fair, August 10 to 13, have been received, according to a list just published by Charles S. Putnam, J. I. publisher of speed. Remarkable about the large number, Mr. Putnam said: "This is the biggest list of early closings that we have ever had. It is a record breaker."

The great interest being taken in the events by horse owners all over the country, proves that Janesville still retains its title of "the Lexington of the North" in bigger measures this year than ever before. Moreover, it promises four days of the best display of the "sport of kings" to be given here.

Horses from All Over
Six of the states are from Chicago. There are numerous horses from all over Canada, from the west to the east. Minnesota sends three stables, while Milwaukee, St. Paul, Madison, Monroe, Fond du Lac, Beloit, each are well lined up.

There are 33 horses in the W. C. Durant stake for 2:15 pacers, $1,000 purse, and the same number in the F. W. Hohensee stake for 2:20 trotters, $1,000 purse. In the J. A. Craig stake for 2:12 pacers, $1,000 purse, 16 horses are signed up. Twenty are on the list for the C. C. Clay $1,000 stake for 2:15 trotters. Samson tractor $500 stake for three-year old trotters has drawn nine.

The late closing events add $3,000 to this $4,500 in three trot and three pacers, as follows: trot—2:25, 2:10 and 2:17; paces—2:05, 2:23 and 2:15.

A total of $350 in special colts events brings the money so far announced, to $7,850 for the meet. For the best three in five in half mile heats $200 is up for three-year old pacers and $150 for two-year old trotters.

MILTON CRESCENTS
DEFEAT RAILS, 10-9
Milton Junction, June 8.—Janesville Rails were defeated by the Milton Junction Crescents Sunday, 10 to 9 at Charley Bluff, Lake Koshkonong. The score was tied in the fifth when the Crescents solved Pile's delivery for several three baggers.

ROGERS PARK ARE NEXT FOR SAMSONS

Undeclared Chicago Team Here for Week-End—Samsons Going With Steam Up.

They're beginning to get stronger—the opponents of the Samson tractor ball club. After matching and meeting up with the Logan squares at Chicago, last week end dividing a brace of games in to hard fights, the Samsons take on the Rogers Park Chicago league clubs, the Rogers club backs up its claims with a record of not having lost a game since they were formed. And they have played such a season. After a week-end without a big ball game in town, the fair grounds pestered out to the fair grounds and the Iron Men back onto the home field. Moreover, they will want to see Ralph Capron, the star outfielder, perform Capron, in the garden now that they have heard so much about the good games he put up down in the Windy City. With his addition to the staff, all that now remains is the acquisition of a left handed pitcher to make the club stick high in the Chicago league.

IT'S GOING TO BE SOME GAME--LAKOTA!

Walter La Verne Carle, the Slippery Elm groceryman, who is going to lead the attacks of the married gentry against the single men in the annual baseball game at the Lakota Club, cutting at Lake Koshkonong, a week from today, has delegated William P. Langdon to manage the team. The legends are refusing to announce the lineup, presumably to announce the springing of a couple of surprises when they march on the field. Joe Denning, who will direct the single men, has signed Victor Lowdermilk Hemming and Irena Schang Koek to do his battery work. It is almost decided to have some Koshkonong farmer umpire the fray.

Eau Claire.—Willard W. Bartlett, builder and contractor, is dead here after a short illness. He was 63 years old and is survived by his widow, a son and a daughter, two brothers, William W. Bartlett of this city and Frank A. Bartlett, Mondovi, and a sister, Mrs. Maude N. Drake, Eau Claire.

School Track Meet Will Start at 9:30 Saturday

Starting of the first annual track meet of Janesville grade schools will take place at 9:30 Saturday morning.

All boys entered in the several events should be on hand promptly. Delay in getting on the line will work to disqualify the competitor. Two events will be running at the same time, according to plans as they now stand. A dash and a jumping or throwing number will each be going on in order to save time.

Final arrangements have been made with the officials of the fair grounds and permission given to use the track for the big day. Marking of the ground and placing of the pits for jumping will take place Friday.

Name Officials.
Officials of the course as announced today are: Indications are that A. C. Preston and Frank Sinclair, Judge, Victor E. Hemming, announcer, A. C. Preston, scorer, J. A. Stelling, was sounded by Mr. Steiner today that all entries will close tomorrow night and none will be taken after that. Indications are that 100 will join in the meet. In numbering the boys, series of 100 will be used. Under this plan 1 to 99, inclusive, will stand for one school; 100 to 199 for another, and so on, for convenience and quickness in scoring.

ST. JOHN'S OUTROWED BY CHICAGO CREW

Delafield, Wis., June 8.—Leading from start to finish, the eight oared crew representing the Lincoln Park boat club of Chicago defeated St. John's Military Academy in their annual race Monday by three lengths. The visitors who have been working under Coach Fitzpatrick, showed a vast improvement over the race pulled a year ago in Chicago. They pulled a steady stroke and finished with a remarkable sprint. This puts the two organizations into a tie for the trophy which must be won three or five times by either crew. Each has won one race.

BUGS FROM HERE OFF FOR BIG CREAM CITY

RICHIE-LEW BATTLE

Approximately 25 fans from this city have laid plans to attend the big Lew Tendler-Richie Mitchell 10 round bout at Milwaukee tonight. They will make the trip in autos. This is the largest number that has ever gone from Janesville to a fight in a distant city.

The fight is drawing considerable attention from all over the country. Milwaukee's idealized "battler" has every support of his home city and state. Height, weight and reach are in Richie's favor. Betting is even money with Mitchell a slight favorite.
